

Visit with author Karen White

Karen is a New York Times and USA Today bestselling author and currently writes what she refers to as ‘grit lit’—Southern women’s fiction—and has also expanded her horizons into writing a mystery series set in Charleston, South Carolina. Her twenty-first novel, The Guests on South Battery, was published in January 2017 and debuted at #10 on the New York Times hardcover bestseller list. Her new novel, The Night the Lights Went Out, was published in April 2017.
